Psychopharmacology BULLETIN

A LONG-REVERED RESOURCE IN ACADEMIA

Published from 1965 until 2000 by the National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH), Psychopharmacology BULLETIN was one of the first psychiatric journals in the Nation. Bulletin forged its path just as psychiatry itself was embarking on its golden era of treatment breakthroughs and recognition as a valid and independent field of medicine. With the primary catalyst for cutting-edge remission treatment in anxiety and depression, Psychopharmacology Bulletin covers a wide range of core topics each issue:

- Original Research
- Evidence-Based Medicine
- Translational Neuroscience
- Drug Disposition and Pharmacokinetics
- General Psychiatry
- Complicated Case Histories
- Psychopharmacology & Pharmaceutical Research

THE ABCs OF TRENDS

A MISSION OF INFLUENCE

PubMed

EBSCO

Scopus®

ELSEVIER

Indexed in a variety of databases including Index Medicus and PubMed, Bulletin's influential name carries with it a certain responsibility to make sense of the trends in medicine for clinicians as a primary reference for cutting-edge remission treatment in anxiety and depression. Editor in Chief, Michael E. Thase, MD's focus is on the future, on broadening Bulletin's scope, fostering an ability to engage readers actively, and expanding its already formidable sphere of influence in the field of neuropsychiatry.

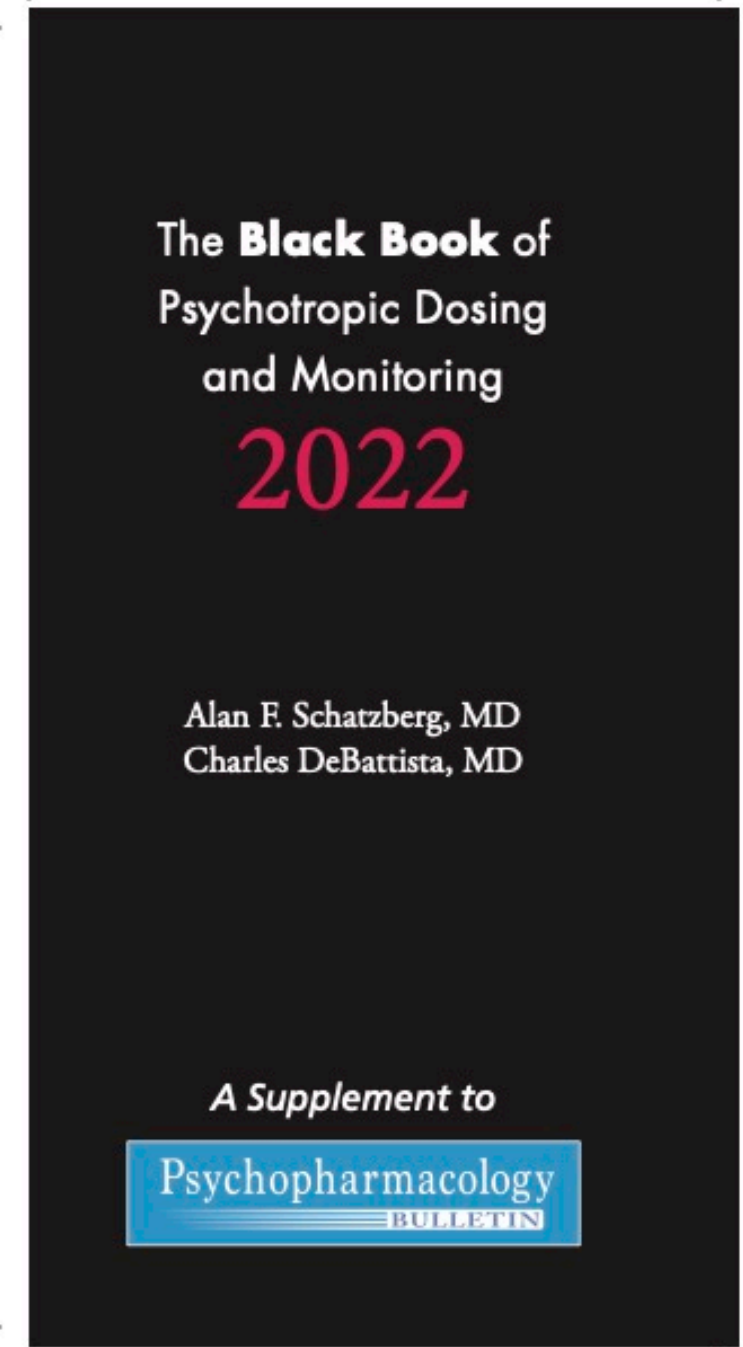

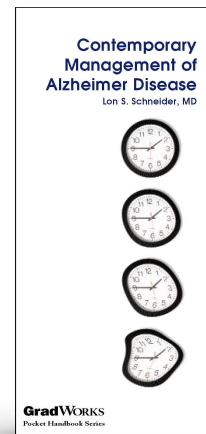

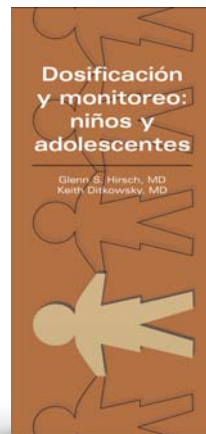

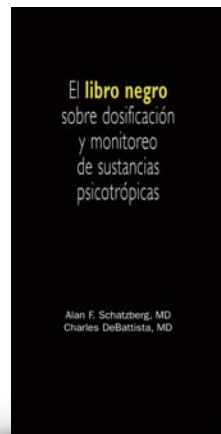

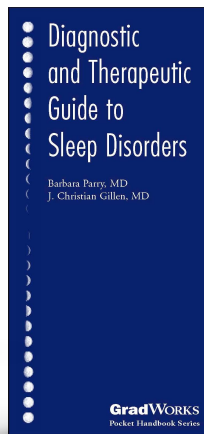

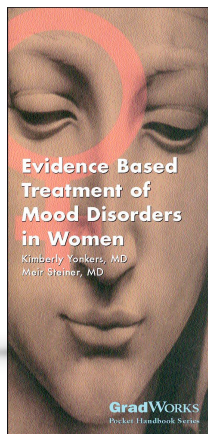

POCKET REFERENCE GUIDES

CLINICAL TOOLS TO USE

Utilizing its experience in medical marketing and publishing, GradWORKS is a creative means in the process of educating professionals. The key component of GradWORKS projects are educational reviews, or enduring materials that can be easily referenced. These reference guides are powerful tools for physicians, designed to fit in the front pocket of a physician's jacket and color coded for quick, easy access.

GradWORKS has produced and published over a dozen pocket reference guides, in both English and Spanish. By far the most successful, The Black Book of Psychotropic Dosing and Monitoring, has always been a premium product at APA where physicians cued up 200 deep to receive an updated copy. - PRICING AVAILABLE UPON REQUEST

ACADEMIC SUPPLEMENTS

MAXIMUM IMPACT FACTOR

Academic Supplements, perhaps the most widely acknowledged printed venue in academia for the dissemination of scientific literature, can be printed stand-alone or polybagged to any audience in the world. MedWorks Academic Supplements enjoy the same large and efficient circulations as the journal, while having the additional benefit of being able to mix and match circulations for maximum efficiency. In addition, any Academic Supplement featured within Psychopharmacology BULLETIN will be listed on the indexes that the parent journal is listed on, including Index Medicus, EMBASE/Excerpta Medica, Psychological Abstracts, EBSCO, Current Contents, Science Citation Index, SCOPUS, Thompson/Reuters and Biological Abstracts under Psychopharmacol Bull.

DISSEMINATING INFORMATION FAST AND WITH PRECISION

Supplements tend to be culled from academic symposia that take place at conferences and other sponsored satellite events, and typically proffer a turnaround of less than three months from the arrival of manuscripts. With review by the editors as well as select peer reviewers, these papers are assured of the same independent review process the parent journal secures for its manuscripts. The Supplements themselves physically resemble the journal they represent and list that journal's editorial board masthead.
